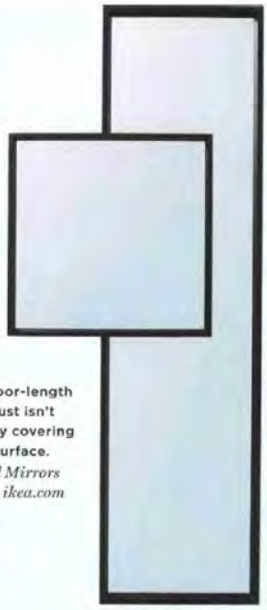
Whether stacked as shelves, split as side tables, or spread out as a coffee table, this unit is the ultimate after-party trick.
A Perfunctory Affair Bookcase
objectsofcommoninterest.com

A chic bar cart accessory that also doubles as a flask for New Year's Eve and other midnight escapades.
Round Pewter Flask $130
shopcasashop.com



When a floor-length mirror just isn't enough, try covering every surface.
Nissedal Mirrors from $20 ikea.com

Bring the front-row vibes home with this stylish chair.
Orbit Chair by Lara Bohinc $3,387
matterofstuff.com

Halston's Showroom, New York City

Here's your all-access pass to a life of decadence and glamour. Step inside, honey—you're on the list.
Studio 54 $85 rizzoliusa.com

Shall we shag now or shall we shag later?
Shag Pile Tulu Rug $1,495
1stdibs.com

Disco Daze

Towering above Fifth Avenue, fashion icon Halston's ultimate HQ, designed in the 1970s, was all lipstick red rugs, soaring sheets of glass, and lacquered details, epitomizing the era of glitz and glam.

Elaina Sullivan
Style Editor @elaina_sullivan

Ditch those bright lights for something more flattering. A sunken living room wouldn't be complete without a sultry glow.
Criss Cross Lamp by Bethan Laura Wood nilufar.com

Halston's legendary showroom was decked out with Elsa Peretti's iconic designs, which you can still collect today.
Thumbprint Dish by Elsa Peretti $375 tiffany.com

Minimal yet maximal, with a nod to '70s modernism—meet the dream couch for hosting your whole crew.
Lapis Sofa by Emanuel Gargano and Anton Cristell for Amura $5,936
1stdibs.com

Halston Showroom: Norman McGrath

© 2019 DOMINO
All Rights Reserved.